 Very touching story. I missed the last rule though. Even though I've had problems recently I've been growing too long. Sorry for the false alarm.

That's a new rule this time. Lots of tough calls. The "imtohi exception" comes to mind. Post a picture of your watering can and praise the ele-can and you can at least get an empty. There are already 5 on the Un-List.

If you are not currently growing of course go ahead and ask. If you are going to crop before you drop then hold off for those who can not grow. No one is going to police you but the community and your conscience.

I don't think the intention of the rule is if you ever grew you are ineligible. If you are out and hurting because something unplanned happened go ahead and ask. This is a free for all after all.

At least get the jar since you already showed up. They are convenient.

HAIL THE ELE-CAN!!!!

Praise the Ele-can!

Otis, I'm a first time grower and a bad one, at that. Do you remember that Shishka Berry clone you gave me a few months ago?

It's about 2 weeks away from harvest... It was the only plant that lived...

I'll toss some of the budz from it, back into jar, keep jar in my tool bag and give it back to you whenever we run into each other again on the trail.

Thank you,
HAIL THE ELE-CAN!

Hell Yes!

Realized this morning that it became the 15th and that means Cast Off Hand at 3! I won't check back till later but if we go over 25 don't worry, I have plenty more up to about 75 full jars and 50 empties so bring it on.

Can't wait to get this anchor off my arm.

I'll check back on the morning to see who showed up. As long as more than 15 people don't show up I'm good. Nice to have my hand back. My nerves are doing strange things from the sensory deprivation of the cast. The other hand got tingly on the palm the same as the hurt one, like it was sympathizing. Been like that since the cast came off.

What if my hands have been talking to eachother in my sleep?!

😊 Held Over One Week!

Including magickwoman, that makes fourteen jars to be donated later today at BB. You must pick up by the time they close tomorrow or your donation will automatically be given to someone else.

The jars with blue labels are Cheese. The pink labels are purpit2. Greens are empty.

I'm donating another 25 jars to let the Ele-Can run another week. I'll start up a new list to be delivered a week from today. Same as this week, pick up

As my crazy way of thanking Otis, everyone who gets a jar, also gets an Ele-Can button!
 I made 25 custom Ele-Can buttons, and one goes with every jar until they're gone!

I fully agree with you. The Purpit 2, otherwise known (as the breeder prefers it to be called), Oregon Pinot Noir, grown by Otis is exceptional, keep up the good growin. I believe it is Purple Hawaiian * Pitbull. I'm out of town for a while, can anybody pick up my green lid jar and maybe a pin if there are any left?
